CHANGING MEANINGS

Law courts illustrate the difficulty of pinning words down and saying they mean this and so. Despite dictionaries and treatises, words remain only approximations of thought. The word that survives several generations usually changes its common meaning at least once during that period. The English language, especially has never been crystallized.

The courts have ruled that a sunflower is not a weed, that a goat is not cattle and that a watermelon is both a fruit and a vegetable. They have interpreted a mile either to be a mile as the crow flies, or 5280 feet by crooked paths and devious highways.

Words are most plastic in the hands of common usage. In Michelangelo's day a cartoon was a drawing or sketch such as he might make in planning one of his masterpieces. A rug was once a head of course, matted hair. "School" once meant a dispute or a learned discussion. "Spring" at one time meant a grove or piece of woodland. Taxation is scandalous today but in Shakespeare's time the definition of the word was "a scandal," and to tax meant to indulge in ridicule.

With words constantly changing their meanings the subject of lexicography is confusing enough, but if this fad of talking in abbreviations and initials, like O. K. and B. O. and P. A. for example, continues the English will be a dead language within one generation.

TAX-EATER ARMY

Not malaria germs, not yellow fever, not leprosy, but public jobholders are the subject of the latest survey by the Rockefeller Foundation. (There's an excellent opening for some wag to ask, "What's the difference?")

It is estimated that the American taxpayers support 2,500,000 men and women at the public trough, and the survey is intended to cover them all from street sweeper to Senator, which somebody says is in the order of their importance.

Out of the tax pocket of the people and business comes $4,000,000,000 annually to pay the salaries and wages of these public servants, an amount sufficiently large to make the taxpayers and consumers wonder if they get 4,000,000,000 worth of benefit from that expenditure and to make the Rockefeller Foundation curious as to the answer.

Without spending a year surveying John Smith, taxpayer, could tell the Social Science Research Council, which will superintend the survey, that a great many of these public jobholders could really be dispensed with and that a great deal more do not render a dollar's worth of public service for every tax dollar they receive.

Though the results of the survey are predictable it will accomplish some useful purpose if it lends authenticity, prestige and force to People's Grievance No. 1. Perhaps if Congress, the state legislatures and the municipal job-makers see the facts in print under the seal of the Rockefeller Foundation they may look them in the face and do something about it.

Now and then the real reason for some startling success is that his vocation and his hobby happened to be identical.

If you must reduce, try being a dejected lover.

Civil Works Men Here Receive Over $5000 In Their First Pay

Louis B. Gorton, of Bristol, and under his direction United States Government checks are written for each employee. Copies of the payrolls are forwarded to the Local Emergency Relief officer, for purposes of checking with his lists.

The various reports and records are made out in triplicate and in some instances four copies are required. A progress record is kept of all the various projects and also a record of the cost of labor and materials of each operation. When it is seen that a project in a certain district is approaching the estimated cost of that project the district is notified and when the estimated cost is reached the work will have to cease, whether or not the project is completed.

A special clerk has been assigned to attend to the details of injuries sustained by those employed on the jobs. This "injury clerk" will have supervision of all compensation reports and records throughout the county on all civil works projects.

HARRISBURG — (INS) — Representatives from all churches throughout Pennsylvania will assemble here on January 29 and 30 for their fifth annual convention.

The dates were announced by Dr. William L. Mudge, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Council of Churches. Delegates were chosen on the basis of four ministers, two laymen and two laywomen for every 5,000 communicant members.

Special conferences will be held during the two days for women delegates. It is expected a department of women of the Pennsylvania Council of Churches will be organized.

NEW-COMER SCORES 25 POINTS IN FIRST GAME

Frank Frankovic made his debut with the Paterson Parchment Paper Company basketball team last night on the Italian Mutual Aid court, and what a debut it was!

The newcomer on the Paper Makers' aggregation hit the cords for ten field goals and five fouls, for a total of 25 points, as the Paterson team rolled up the highest score of the season, defeating the Knights of Columbus, 53-36. The 25 points represent the largest number of points scored by any one player this season.

The record fell three short of tying the Bristol Basketball League mark, held by "Tohy" Lawrence, of the Young Men's Association team, who scored 28 points against the Knights of Columbus on January 22, 1932.

"Chuckie" Connors made a brilliant showing for the losing quintet, netting eight double-deckers and a foul for 17 points. Most of Connors' field goals were long shots.

The Knights were without the services of their high-scoring aces, Morrissey and Parker, and gave a good account of themselves without their stars.

The victory kept the Paper Mill team in the race for the first half till as they trail the Hibernian five by a one-half game.

THIRD WARDERS MARK UP THEIR FIRST VICTORY

Failure to stop "Butch" DeBroskey cost St. Ann's A. A. their match with the Third Ward A. C. last night as the Warders chalked up their first victory of the campaign. Final score read: Third Ward, 38; St. Ann's, 28.

The "Saints" worked hard the first half and succeeded in holding the Warders to a 13-11 score. During this half, DeBroskey was held to a lone field goal and two fouls, being out-scored by "Jimmy" Lake.

The second half found a rejuvenated Third Ward lineup, and things appeared different as the quintet pulled away from the St. Ann's total. The last quarter of the game found the Purple and Gold team taking long shots which did not net very many scores.

DeBroskey counted 20 points and Lake 10, in handing the Saints their fifth straight defeat. Birchenoff was credited with seven points, while the other marker was a foul by Dick Brown.

Bornice was high scorer for the losing quintet with seven points. The remainder of the tallies were well divided among the other players.

On next Tuesday night, the Knights of Columbus will meet the Y. M. A. after the Odd Fellows meet the P. P. Co. in the opening match.

WITH football over for another year we have had time to sit back and reflect the success of our major gridiron team, St. Ann's... the reason for their wonderful record as a championship organization.

We had the pleasure of watching this great outfit in a couple of their big games and were agreeably surprised at the perfect harmony that existed among the players... the willingness in which each man showed, when called upon by the coach to get in there and fight.

Another thing that impressed me was the clean manner in which the lads from Dorrance street conducted themselves during the game... They played hard, clean football... with no needless arguments and no unnecessary rough stuff.

When one looks back a number of years and compares the present St. Ann's team with some of the squads of previous years, you can't help but notice the great improvement in their play... with all due respect to the lads who battled on the other teams for the glory of their club... The training of the present squad, many of whom were taught football on the high school teams, reflects just what training means to a boy.

Much of the credit for their success this season should go to Coach Mike DeRisi... He imbued his charges with the proper spirit and mental attitude so necessary to a winning club... The wonderful support and loyalty of the fans, too, was a big factor in the success of the team.

We salute the St. Ann's football champions of 1933 as a really great organization.

MOUNT CARMEL — (INS) — When his wife complained about severe pain and a possible infection in her back, Frank Malinoski, of Exchange, discovered a piece of thread protruding from the skin.

The thread broke when he pulled it. A physician was called and Mrs. Malinoski was advised to go to a hospital. Unable to stand the sharp pains, she squeezed the portion of her back near the infection.

As she pressed the skin, the eye end of a needle appeared. Using pliers, her husband removed the lusia.

needle which was about an inch and a half in length. Mrs. Malinoski is unable to account for the presence of the needle which had turned black.

Miss Elizabeth Rue, Radcliffe street, will pass the week-end and Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Walton, Audapincers, her husband removed the lusia.
